MILLS TO BE RUN ON FULL TIME

Contracts That Were Conditional on McKinley's Election.

THE RETURN OF CONFIDENCE

A general resumption of operations is reported from the mill district of Kensington, Philadelphia, and in various parts of eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In the former manufacturers say that by December 1 all will be running full time. Monday a number of places, which have been shut down for months, will resume and others that have been working on half time will take on additional help. Among the number are the mills of Thomas Dolan & .Co., the Keystone dye workers and the big cordage works of Edwin H. Fitler. William Allen's mills, which shut down fifteen weeks ago, will also open Monday. The carpet mills of Robert Foulke have started, and Maslands' mills will be in operation in a few days. A number of Smyrna rug mills will also resume in a short time and give employment to a large number of men. The Jeanesville iron works at Hazleton,Pa., which have been on short time, have started which have been on short time, have started on full time, and the men have been given the chance of working seven days a week. The Lehigh Valley shops have also notified their men that hereafter they work six days a week instead of five nine-hour days. It was also announced semi-officially that the collieries will go on full time next week. They have not worked a full month in over a year.

Senator Camden of West Virginia has concluded a deal with the receivers of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad by which $1,000,000 will be invested immediately in manufacturing plants in West Virginia. Senator Camden was in Baltimore Wednesday to open negotiations with the Balti-more and Ohio in the event of McKinley's election.

"The election of McKinley means a gen-

"The election of McKinley means a general revival of business in every line," says Senator Camden. "We have a syndicate that stands ready to expend $1,000,000 in the erection of pulp mills and other woodwork establishments in the vicinity of Gauley, W. Va., on the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railroad. The Interest of the Faltimore and Ohio in the deal is mutual with their interests in this road, which is one of their feeders. These plants we with their interests in this road, which is one of their feeders. These plants we propose to erect will require the labor of many men in their erection and operation, and many others will find employment in the woods, furnishing the material which the mills will consume. The deal certainly would not have been concluded had Bryan iten elected, but new that McKinley is to be the next President and we are sure of a republican Congress, we are encouraged to go ahead."

TIE IN SOUTH DAKOTA. Official Count Secessary to Decide the

At 10 o'clock last night South Dakota's vote on presidential electors was tled, and an official count will be required to determine the result. The republican managers closed their office with the above declaration. Corrections and changes in three precints not yet heard from may give the election to either Bryan or McKinley. The re-publican Congressmen and governor ran ahead of the electors by several hundred votes, so far as heard from, and they may have safe majorities.
